

Myth 21:

The Robber Class Cares About Our Health

By
Cindy Sheehan

By the end of 2008, after coming off of a successful, but unsuccessful campaign against war criminal Nancy Pelosi (17% of the vote, 2nd place), I was afloat and adrift because the shining-super-star-of-the-universe Barack Obama had won the 2008 presidential contest. Or, as I should say, and have said, he was the selection of the Robber Class to be the titular head of U.S. Empire.

After eight-years of the Buffoon Bush, the world was ready for a smooth-talking, seemingly kinder face of Empire.

Of course, I knew it was all a hoax. I knew the Dalai ‘Bama would continue on the same bloody spiral of his many predecessors and it did not matter who was president because it was the dark forces propping up the office that made the decisions, anyway.

I was being attacked by the liberals for not giving Obama a “chance,” after these same forces had been urging me for the entire campaign to support Obama and then when he was elected we’d “hold his feet to the fire.”

LAUGH OUT LOUD. Three days after he was elected was my first opportunity to “hold his feet to the fire” after he ordered the bombing of a wedding party in Northern Waziristan that killed over three-dozen civilians. I had thousands of former supporters unsubscribe from my emailing list because I was not giving the mass-murderer a “chance.” Just think about it, three-dozen victims is a lifetime “achievement” for most serial killers, but for Obama, it was just a minute’s work and the beginning of his genocidal regime.

Needless to say, I was perplexed. Conversely, I was also being attacked by conservatives who were claiming that I wasn’t protesting Obama, although I have never stopped.

All of the people who now loathed me were the same people who supported me when I was saying the exact same things about Bush as I was now saying about Obama—what were the machinations that allowed people to have such flimsy and flexible principles?

One night in January, after Obama’s first killing-spree as POTUS, I came up with my answer, it was the “Robber Class”—the institutions, organizations, and persons that often were not in the limelight, but supported those that were: the true policy and decision makers.

I felt the Robber Class weren’t just the rich ghouls like the Gates, Rockefellers, Carnegies, Vanderbilts, and Morgans, but institutions like the military, media, Big Pharma, Big Farming, and police forces that legitimized and protected the power against the rest of us in the Robbed Class (which a few years later, Occupy would call, “The 99%). I wrote my manifesto long before I read the Communist Manifesto, and as an “Organic Marxist,” I made up names that made sense to me, and from what I have heard, to others also.

Fast forward to 2022 and the planet has been suffering from a “pandemic” that I believe was foisted upon us just like all of the post-9/11 wars were—marketed and sold by the Robber Class to rob us of civil and human rights and further enrich themselves in the process.

Like in 2008, “intelligent” people are falling for the absurdity that a coronavirus is a grave health threat and falling in line with all of the draconian measures of government and private sectors to rob us all of “Life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.” Not being a constitution fetishist, or a founding father cultist myself, I have seen the threat of the Robber Class during this shamdemic as grave as the one the nascent US faced in the 18th century. The ironic aspect is, the former British enemy of the colonists have become fast friends and allies in many genocidal programs over the years, including the fakery of Covid-19.

Covid-19 (a brief discussion of germ v. terrain theory below) has roots in a natural virus—coronaviruses are organic and natural, the pandemic came from the Robber Classes that were exploited as in the infamous quote of Rahm Emanuel, “never let a good crisis go to waste.”

(Note: as of this writing, much convincing proof has arisen that Anthony Fauci and his NIH knew about and funded gain of function research in the Wuhan lab, and many others around the world. Gain of function research: (GoF research or GoFR) is medical research that genetically alters an organism in a way that may enhance the biological functions of gene products. This may include an altered pathogenesis, transmissibility, or host range, i.e. the types of hosts that a microorganism can infect. If this is true, Cov-Sars2 is a bioweapon unleashed on the world by Fauci and his ilk

There is also convincing evidence that Ralph Basic, working with Fauci's NIH, was doing gain of function research at UNC Chapel Hill. I believe sars-Cov2 is a bioweapon).

How did I know it was fake from the beginning? Because I saw through the Robber Class and their “Myths” a long time ago and I wrote Myth America II: The 20 Greatest Myths of the Robber Class and the Case for Revolution to expose them, but I definitely missed one and this addendum, postscript, or afterword will hopefully clear it up:

Myth 21: The Robber Class Cares About Our Health.

Think about it hard—when has that ever been true?

My dear sister, comrade, and best-friend, Dede Miller died of breast cancer in 2017 before she was 60 years old. Her “treatment” was invasive, dehumanizing, and caused far more problems than it solved, obviously.

When she was born in 1958, deadly radioactive clouds blew over Los Angeles from the above ground nuclear bomb tests in Nevada. I am not saying that caused her cancer, but environmental, chemical, and genetic factors contribute to the spreading of killer cells in a human host.

Dede is one example of MILLIONS, perhaps, BILLIONS of instances when the Robber Class could not give one f*ck about our health.

In this new chapter, I will hopefully show convincing proof that they are just using Covid-19 (and now its variants) to beat us into a “New Normal” where the rich get even richer and the poor get even poorer and EVERYONE gets sicker.

Bottomline: Believing that the US Empire and the Global Robber Class which has murdered millions and committed multitudes of genocides cares about your health, or my health is absolutely absurd and ridiculously naive.

As always, I welcome input and criticisms.

Cindy Sheehan: CindySheehansSoapbox@gmail.com

The Karmic Debt of Genocide and Slavery

Growing up in the “Greatest Nation in the Universe,” I was taught that colonization of the Americas was pure and slavery was an institution that didn’t make the U.S.A. “bad,” but was just an unfortunate blip in the radar of an otherwise pristine history. Of course, one sentence doesn’t expose a lifetime of mis-learning, but it is a Twitter-like thumbnail of U.S. History as taught by the Robber Class educational system.

I mean, for god’s sake, Andrew Jackson, one of the worst genocidal maniacs of our indigenous population is lauded with his face on the $20 Federal Reserve Note. It’s only been a recent phenomena that we are facing up to our slave-holding roots, even if only in superficial and Robber Class approved ways: like tearing down statues of Confederacy heroes, but having two states and a DC named after a very significant slave-raper intact.

When Columbus “discovered” American, there were over 100 million people already living on our continent—many with advanced civilizations that were at their heydays when Europeans were still living in caves.

According to the U.S. Census Bureau, the current total population of Native Americans in the United States is 6.79 million, which is about 2.09% of the entire population. There are about 574 federally recognized Native American tribes in the U.S. Fifteen states have Native American populations of over 100,000.

Many of our Native populations live in squalor on reservations placed on subpar land where substance abuse is rife. None of this happened by accident, it was all the plan of the nascent Robber Class to dominate a continent and use any means at its disposal for genocide (think blankets covered with small-pox and such slaughters as Sand Creek and Jackson's Trail of Tears). Kind of like what our thoroughly modern Robber Class does in places around the globe where natural resources and markets are controlled by war and occupation.

If the 17th and 18th century Robber Class could use bioweapons, is it such a stretch to think they would use pandemics in the 21st c?

The U.S. had to fight a bloody-war to stop slavery, but the joke was on the slaves: It never ended. According to the Equal Justice Initiative:

The Thirteenth Amendment, ratified in 1865, made slavery and involuntary servitude unconstitutional in the United States “except as punishment for crime.” As the end of slavery left a void in the Southern labor market, the criminal justice system became one of the primary means of continuing the legalized involuntary servitude of African Americans.

Initially, states passed discriminatory laws to arrest and imprison large numbers of Black people, then leased prisoners to private individuals and corporations in a system of convict leasing that resulted in dangerous conditions, abuse, and death. While states profited, prisoners earned no pay and faced inhumane, hazardous, and often deadly work conditions. Thousands of Black people were forced into a brutal system that historians have called “worse than slavery.”

I know from personal experience, that many liberals felt that the election of Barack Obama put the U.S. into a “post-racial society,” but even with a black attorney general (Eric Holder) the Obama administration prosecuted not one killer-cop that was inevitably let off the hook by his/her department, or local judicial system.

As we still see, cops are routinely slapped on the wrist, if punished at all, for killing black or brown people and racism is still a cancer on U.S. society.

Yet, we are led to believe that the descendants of the same people, companies, and institutions that benefitted from genocide and slavery all of a sudden care about public health? Um, okay.

War

One of the biggest red flags in the Robber Class repertoire of disaster is its propensity to be at nearly constant war. Today, the maniacs on the top of the food chain are provoking nuclear war with Russia, in Ukraine—and every anti-Trump person is supporting this potential mass-extinction event.

Looking back at the deadly history of the US, there have been only about two-dozen years where the Empire has NOT been in either a covert-or overt war.

Why is Constant War part of being “American?” To spread our glorious ideas of freedom and democracy? If the years since 9/11/01 haven’t convinced you that there is very little legitimate freedom in the US (and that the US is a democracy is another one of their foundational myths), then maybe the escalating abrogation of the U.S. Constitution since Covid-19 has been more compelling?

There have been very few times in US history where any of the wars have been to defend the population. The so-called Cold War gave me PTSD from the constant propaganda of nuclear war and the horrific “Red Scare,” and the dreaded “Mutually Assured Destruction.”

These days the wars have become increasingly mechanized which allows all of the killing, but none of the “pesky” protest that seems to increase only when US lives are lost.

It's hard to estimate how many people the U.S. has murdered throughout history. For example, just with the Clinton sanctions and bombings of Iraq, the U.S. says about 500k Iraqi were killed, but I have spoken with Iraqi doctors and others who say, it was 500,000 children and closer to two-million total. Of course, the count for the Bush-Cheney war against the people of Iraq is hard to pin down because as then DefSec Rumsfeld said, "we don't do body counts." Over one-million deaths and people are still dying of war and occupation related illnesses (depleted uranium) and injuries. We think that over three-million Vietnamese died and are also still dying from Agent Orange and landmines.

The wars that the US are always engaged in harm soldiers, veterans, and everyone in the US. The massive costs of the Military Industrial Complex have contributed to a crumbling infrastructure, piss-poor public education and very few social safety nets for those of us that fall through the fissures of Capitalism.

As Major General Smedley Butler said in his profound treatise War is a Racket, war does not create profit, it is FOR profit.

The reasons for war and the reasons for a pandemic are very similar, no?

Billionaires like Bill Gates, Jeff Bezos, and Elon Musk have made massive amounts of wealth during the pandemic, yet we the people have received paltry chump-change for being forced to shutter businesses, or stay home from work. Workers were divided into "essential" and "non-essential," with Marxists and labor unions allowing workers to be pitted against each other, or be called "worthless," without one peep—in fact, most were avid supporters of the fascist measures. The cry should have been, "All workers are essential," period. My youngest daughter, a massage therapist, didn't work for months—I got her a t-shirt that read: "Non-essential Employee of the Month." Little did we know that she would soon become a teacher of 2nd, 4th, and 6th grades. I was her teacher's aid for online "learning", and later we will talk about how very little learning was actually accomplished!

Now, we will talk about Big Pharma—a handful of new billionaires have been created in this industry by the so-called vaccine.

Big Pharma and Medicine U.S. Style

Fortunately, I don't know anyone who died of Covid, although I do know a handful of people who were diagnosed with it. All recovered.

However, I can't even count the number of people I know who died of cancer—including my sister and father. I am not even sure my sister died from cancer, I think the treatment killed her.

Over 600,000 people die from cancer in the U.S. every year, yet it is still legal to sell cigarettes; use toxic pesticides and defoliants; and fill food with food-coloring, chemicals, GMOs, and other additives proven to be carcinogenic. The chronically harmful extraction and usage of fossil fuels continues unabated no matter who sits in the Oval Office. There are few governmental bans on public smoking, or spraying parks with Mon-Satan's Round-up.

In fact, during the Covid-craze, many people with deadly diseases like cancer and heart conditions were denied care. Miscarriages were on the rise because “physical” exams were done via zoom instead of in person.

Many physicians who actually care more about patient care than protecting big Pharma and that mass-murderer, Fauci, came up with protocols to treat their patients who were exhibiting early signs of C19.

These treatments included hydroxychloroquine, Ivermectin (not just a “horse paste”), zinc, and broad spectrum antibiotics to protect against secondary infections. Most of these doctors who felt like they were fulfilling their Hippocratic oaths were instead censured, removed from their positions, and/or had their licenses to practice medicine revoked. However, most of the doctors reported amazing results: greatly reduced incidence of hospitalization and death.

However, Fauci, the CDC and FDA collaborated to ban these treatments and favored doing nothing for patients until they were so sick they ended up in emergency rooms all over the country. Once admitted they were treated with ventilators and Remdesivir with deadly results. In one study of Remdesivir and its possible affects on Ebola, 53% of the subjects died! The problem with this pHARMAceutical from Gilead, is that it causes kidney failure. HCQ and Ivermectin have been used on HUMANS safely for decades, and years, respectively. The only side effect of using safe drugs v. Remdesivir is that big pHARMA profits go down. Cry me a river.

Why would our public health officials do something that was so murderous? Because, technically, if there is a known treatment (off use, or not) that worked, Emergency Use Authorizations for vaccines would not be approved, and how could criminal enterprises like Pfizer make 40 billion in one year?

So, again, tell me how the U.S. Robber Class cares about your health?

Just to remind people

In the late 1950s and early 1960s, the use of thalidomide in 46 countries by women who were pregnant or who subsequently became pregnant resulted in the "biggest man-made medical disaster ever," with more than 10,000 children born with a range of severe deformities, such as phocomelia, as well as thousands of miscarriages.^{[1][2]}

Thalidomide was introduced in 1953 as a tranquilizer, and was later marketed by the German pharmaceutical company Chemie Grünenthal under the trade name Contergan as a medication for anxiety, trouble sleeping, "tension", and morning sickness.^{[3][4]} It was introduced as a sedative and medication for morning sickness without having been tested on pregnant women.^[5] While initially deemed to be safe in pregnancy, concerns regarding birth defects were noted in 1961, and the medication was removed from the market in Europe that year. (From Wikipedia)

The Tuskegee Study of Untreated Syphilis in the Negro Male^{[1][2][3]} (informally referred to as the Tuskegee Experiment or Tuskegee Syphilis Study) was a study conducted between 1932 and 1972 by the United States Public Health Service (PHS) and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) on a group of nearly 400 African Americans with syphilis.^{[4][5]} The purpose of the study was to observe the effects of the disease when untreated, though by the end of the study medical advancements meant it was entirely treatable. The men were not informed of the nature of the experiment, and more than 100 died as a result. (From Wikipedia)

I recommend watching The Dallas Buyer's Club for a dramatic rendering of the AIDS/AZT/FAUCI scandal.

Eldercide

One of the glaring hypocrisies and crimes that occurred (still occurring?) during this scandal-demic is where at least eight governors, that we verified, sent ill people to long-term care facilities, or more commonly known as “nursing homes.”

In the beginning of the manufactured crisis, we were told that we must quarantine and all non-essential businesses should close (including dentists and doctor offices, but not liquor stores) so we could “protect granny,” and “flatten the curve.”

So, it was very confusing when we began to hear reports in April 2020 of crises in nursing homes, from Seattle Washington to Italy to NYC! The elderly were dying in droves.

I recently read where over half of the deaths attributed to Covid-19 (we'll talk about those stats later) have been elderly people trapped in nursing homes. Dying because their governors infected them with biological weapons and without the benefit of family, friends, or advocates to care for them. In some homes, residents died because their caregivers were too afraid to come to work. I can't even imagine the horror our elders have been put through over these past three years, as well as our young, which we will also talk about in a different section.

Andrew Cuomo of New York and governor Gavin Newsom of California were among the leading proponents of what we have termed “eldercide.”

Andrew Cuomo is going through inquiries and investigations into his office hiding the stats on Eldercide, which is a bigger scandal, in my opinion, than his gropey hands. Out of the roughly 42,000 reported C19 deaths in New York State, 15,000, or over 1/3 were from this planned Eldercide.

(Cuomo was forced to resign because of his #MeToo transgressions)

Biden's assistant Secretary of "Health" Rachel/Richard took her/his mother out of a nursing home right before the Eldercide was perpetrated in Pennsylvania.

But, it's we who question these murderous, authoritarian and ineffectual measures that are called, "granny killers." This governmental Eldercide is a crime against humanity which should be investigated and punished to the fullest extent of the law.

Honestly, I know my attitude about C19 didn't kill one senior, but the Robber Class killed a few hundred thousand of them.

I am a "granny" and I recently found out that I was in a new category of humans that need to be studied, because, although exposed many times to the coronavirus, I never contracted it. I am a Super-Avoider—the one thing I cynically think that the Robber Class Medical Establishment wants to study Super-Avoiders is because they want to be able to better eugenically engineer the next one.

The High Cost of Low Quality Care

The USA spends more per capita than any other country on "health" care and the care is abysmal.

As a whole, the population of the USA is very ill. Heart disease kills almost three-million per year. Oftentimes heart disease is preventable, or curable, but an unhealthy diet of pre-packaged/junk food; a sedentary lifestyle; smoking cigarettes; breathing toxic air; and drinking poisoned water play a terrible role in this condition. The medical establishment goes directly to harmful medication or surgery instead of advising a radical change in lifestyle, and that makes us increasingly ill.

The first year of the Obama regime, there was a pitched battle between activists who wanted some kind of national healthcare plan and Big Pharma, HMO's and other health insurance companies did not. Of course, the side with the most money to bribe the lawmakers was the side that won.

“Obamacare” was born with higher premiums for most and terrible healthcare for those of us who didn’t have jobs or retirement packages that provided healthcare. There was even a mandate and a public tax penalty to consumers (not citizens, it’s been a long time since we were citizens) who could not afford to purchase a private product. That was the moment where the USA could have instituted a more rational approach to public health, and it failed miserably. But, now, we are encouraged to believe these same people about C19?

Absurd.

Even if we don’t think the pandemic is a hoax, or over-blown, or whatever, I think most of you reading this can agree that the USA has some of the poorest healthcare in the Western World. It’s good if you are wealthy, but if you are not, then it is truly pathetic and dangerous. The Robber Class believes that quality healthcare is a privilege for them, not for all.

The blockade ravaged nation of Cuba does better healthcare than the USA, because they take a holistic approach—which doesn’t mean they are witch doctors, but they look at the individual, the family, the neighborhood, and the community as vital parts of the whole. If the community is ill, then so is the individual, and vice versa. Cuba now has a higher life expectancy than the US and a lower-infant mortality rate!

However, I will close this section with this fact: MEDICAL ERROR is the third leading cause of death here in the USA—Isn’t that wonderful? Many of us have been put into a hell of quarantines/lockdowns by the same industry that seems hellbent on killing us.

The Counter-productive Lockdown Diktats

Getting in my Way-Back Machine (hat tip to Mr. Peabody and Sherman), I remember being wary of the “novel” coronavirus in March of 2020.

However, I knew that I had already survived many “pandemics” that didn’t turn out to really be. Bird flu, swine flu, Asian flu, Mad Cow Disease—you name it, I never got it. I am not minimizing the fact that some people did and some people died. Annual flu kills about 200-500k of people around the world each year. It’s a thing.

So, on March 13, 2020, when Gavin Newsom, governor of California declared a “two week” lockdown to “flatten the curve,” “protect the elderly” and prevent hospitals from being over-crowded, I was skeptical, but thought that two-weeks might be a nice vacation from school for my grandchildren. When I was in elementary school, I would have been ecstatic to have a surprise two-week break! Of course, we know many of these measures have lasted until today and it didn’t take long for my grandchildren and their buddies to start whining about WANTING to go to school!

The first thing I would like to say about the umbrella diktats is that they were collective punishment disguised as public health measures. It was your governor or local health officer prescribing mass “treatment” for everyone regardless of personal health status. It didn’t matter if you were a healthy young person in college or a very ill elder in a nursing home, you were ordered to comply to measures that made little sense for your own health, let alone the health of our communities.

In this sub-section, I will take each of the lockdown diktats and dissect them for effectiveness and common sense:

This analysis of the measures is done after the initial “two-three weeks to flatten the curve.”

School closures

As I said before, the initial decision to close schools came as a not unwelcome measure to my grandchildren who were happy for a break. If they, and most other students, had known that the closures would extend to over a year and that the horrors of Zoom “learning” would be in their future, I am not sure they would have been so happy.

From the beginning of this “pandemic” we were hearing that Sars2-Cov did not affect children the same way that it was affecting adults. However, as the closures extended, we were hearing from studies in places like Sweden that decided to take a more measured (and more successful) response to C19, that even if children tested positive, they were not ill, nor were they infecting other children or adults. In fact, the children acted like a sponge, soaking up the virus without it going anywhere else. If things were done naturally, the students could have put a brake on infection rates.

Yet, the lockdowns continued and depression and suicide increased dramatically among young people. I saw it negatively affect every child over eight-years old with whom I have close contact. Suicides and attempted suicides skyrocketed in this time period to a level which was a legitimate health emergency.

Milestone activities like prom, graduations, and sports were also taken away from the unlucky ones who happened to be of that age. Playgrounds were tragically roped off and beaches were closed. Anything that could actually enhance the natural immunities of children (and others) like fresh air, sunshine, sand, salt water, and socialization, were taken away. Instead of prescribing more vitamin C, zinc, and vitamin D, we were told to isolate and quarantine. Here in California, to the credit of some Democratic lawmakers, they forced Newsom to reopen playgrounds making the correct claim that lower-income families and children suffered most from this misguided policy.

One thing the Robber Class knows and we need to understand, is that life is more than about avoiding germs (which is a doomed notion, anyway), but it’s about connections and health. The health of our children was negatively impacted by the Stasi-like measures that never made any sense from a logical or even public health standpoint.

Take two neighboring countries that took two different approaches, Sweden and Finland.

Sweden did not close schools, and Finland did. The infection rate of children 1-19 years of age were exactly the same: 0.005% The closures had zero affect on the children of either country.

Eldercide

As stated above, the justification for the flatten the curve bullshit was also put on the backs of the elders.

Andrew Cuomo of New York was one of the first governors to institute a policy of putting ill people in nursing homes, after first absolving said nursing homes from any legal liability if anything went wrong. Of course, this was for a price and an already greedy and shady business agreed to take in sick people to further put their elders at risk.

Cuomo is in some hot water right now for hiding the nursing home deaths in his state. As of this writing over 15, 000 residents of nursing homes have allegedly died of C19, many due to Cuomo's policies. But how awful it must be to die alone gasping for breath while no family members are allowed to visit? What? Sick people can be admitted to your family member's room, but you can't go visit your grandma?

Who or what were really "killing Meemaw?" Obviously, the policies of the lockdown regime, not your family members.

Destroying Small Business for Capital (the Robber Class)

As if the Walmartization/Amazonization of the US hadn't negatively impacted small business enough before 2020, 200k small businesses around the country have closed due to the "pandemic."

The stories of individual heartache and economic destruction are as many as the number of businesses that were forced to close.

For the entire year, my mantra was: "If a government forces you to close your business, or stop working, then that government pays for 100% of lost income." Period. Yet, we the people have been tossed hundreds while industries like airlines and Hollywood were given billions. Clearly, we the many were forced to sacrifice much, while they the few made bank! (Like during war).

As a socialist myself, I believe that economies should be democratically controlled by workers and community members, but we were far from that at the beginning of 2020, and now, big businesses have thrived while small businesses greatly suffered.

This is another place where the confused policies of governmental control of our lives made little sense. One could go to a Costco, Sam's Club, Target, or Wal-Mart and mix with hundreds of people, but we were prohibited from getting our hair cut/styled by one person; we could go into any liquor store (which never closed) but could not work out at the closed gym across the street; however, the worst thing is, many people died, or suffered greatly because they could not make appointments with their healthcare providers, nor could they get needed and/or critical treatment for diseases like cancer, or heart problems.

How were any of these measures good for public health?

They obviously were not, but they were AMAZING for people like computer-dude Bill Gates and spaceman-dude, Amazon's Jeff Bezos who both stole billions of dollars from the economy while our friends, neighbors and family members were being economically destroyed!

The Maskaholics and their Mandates

One of the issues that has divided the masses the most is the, what I consider, ridiculous mask mandates.

There is much conflicting information about whether masks help or not.

Well, if we consider the establishment numbers of infected, sick, and dead, they obviously did not help.

I believe masks have value in certain situations—when you are visiting a relative in the hospital who is on C-DIFF restrictions in ICU; when your community is blanketed in a thick layer of wildfire smoke; when you are out Trick or Treating, but masks did nothing to stop the spread of this illness, and, in fact, may have stalled the achievement of herd immunity.

For example, I see many people outdoors by themselves still wearing their face diapers. A recent study made the peer-reviewed claim that one would have to be with another person outdoors for 31.5 days straight to get enough viral load to make him/herself ill. That's not a stat or number you will hear on CiaNN, or MSNBCia!

The reason there is so much confusion over masks is that WHO and Fauci have made confusing statements: they don't work; they work; they don't work; wear two...

The bottom-line with masks is that if you are addicted to wearing one, nothing I can say will make you change your mind, and vice-versa. I can't think of anything at this point that would have a similar affect on my masking beliefs.

I just know that the access to breath and oxygen is essential to a healthy immune system. Like I have claimed many times before, none of the measures that the government took were really to make us healthy, or healthier and designed to compromise our natural immunity and make us afraid of each other: the old "divide and conquer" strategy of the Robber Class rarely fails.

HCQ and IVM v. The Jab

Brilliant investigative journalist Whitney Webb has hammered the nail squarely on the head when she says that the 9-months preceding the Trump Warp Speed Injection were designed to drive people to an experimental drug against C19.

In the past, before SHAMdemics, vaccines took about a decade to get FDA approval. Also, with thousands of fatalities and tens of thousands of injuries due to the various C19 jabs, the FDA, CDC, WHO, NIH, etc are derelict in their duty to stop these experimental poisons. Recently, despite the best available SCIENCE, the FDA approved vaccines for children aged 6-months and older. This is recklessness and dereliction of duty larger than the scope of the oxycontin scandal. The board of the FDA is comprised of big pHARMA hacks that don't care how many babies they give myocarditis (incurable) to as long as their masters are profiting.

If you don't believe that thousands have died and hundreds of thousands have been injured since the Warp Speed Rollout, look at the documents that Pfizer was ordered to reveal by a Federal judge. Pfizer wanted the documents to be sealed for 55 years, and that makes sense since the findings were so damning to them. Also, would you drive a Warp Speed experimental automobile that had many safety questions if you found out that the manufacturer of the auto was exempt from liability if you were maimed or killed? I hope, not.

If you have received the experimental injection, it means that YOU are a guinea pig for big pHARMA because the jabs still should be in the "human" testing phase. The animal testing phase was stopped because the poisons were killing ferrets left and right.

As I re-connect with this work in October, 2022—after the Covax rollout is about two-years old now, we are inundated daily with "died suddenly, and unexpectedly" reports. Young athletes are collapsing on their fields, courts, or in pools—rock stars and elite sports figures are dying, or becoming permanently disabled—life expectancy has plummeted in western countries as death rates dramatically escalate! What is the one factor that is different for these past two-years—hmmm....what could it be?

Since the vcxx rollout, I have so many friends (whom I haven't seen for at least three years) who bragged about their "Fauci Ouchies" and excoriated me, and people like me for being skeptical, who have died far too young. Honestly, most of them were ill with other chronic diseases, like most USAians, but I know they would still be here if not for their "Fauci Ooopsies."

Since the beginning of the TWPI (Trump Warp Speed Injection), big Pharma has received billions of dollars in profit and at least nine new Pharma billionaires have been created, and you think this is about public health?

Freedom is Slavery

Ignorance is Strength

War is Peace

2 + 2 = 5

Health is Murder

In the dystopian novel 1984 citizens have to believe the opposite of what is really true. The past C19 dystopia that we have been enduring has made another lie, the “truth:” Health is Murder.

We were told that “asymptomatic” persons (read: healthy) are responsible for crimes against humanity—that we were taking our health germs around and spreading the virus. If you have bought into all the propaganda, can’t you see how this is the basest bullshit?

Just like the young people who act as viral barricades, so do healthy people. So what if we got a little virus, which didn’t make us ill and passed along a weaker version of the virus, and so on until it was rendered harmless, even to “at risk” people? Again, community immunity would have been achieved much sooner.

Germ Theory v. Terrain Theory

FROM WIKIPEDIA: The germ theory of disease is the currently accepted scientific theory for many diseases. It states that microorganisms known as pathogens or "germs" can lead to disease. These small organisms, too small to be seen without magnification, invade humans, other animals, and other living hosts. Their growth and reproduction within their hosts can cause disease. "Germ" refers to not just a bacterium but to any type of microorganism, such as protists or fungi, or even non-living pathogens that can cause disease, such as viruses, prions, or viroids.^[1] Diseases caused by pathogens are called infectious diseases. Even when a pathogen is the principal cause of a disease, environmental and hereditary factors often influence the severity of the disease, and whether a potential host individual becomes infected when exposed to the pathogen. Pathogens are disease-carrying agents that can pass from one individual to another, both in humans and animals. Infectious diseases are caused by biological agents such as pathogenic microorganisms (viruses, bacteria, and fungi) as well as parasites.

Wikipedia calls “terrain theory” “Germ Theory Denialism.” Why doesn’t it call “Germ Theory” “Terrain Theory Denialism?

Terrain theory basically says that a person’s own body, tissues, cells, are diseased, or immuno-compromised, so the germ, or pathogen, is able to take hold and multiply—thus making the host ill.

Before Covid, I didn’t get too into either theory, I saw that when I had proper nutrition, proper exercise, proper sunlight and fresh air, proper dress, and lower stress, I didn’t fall ill when those around me were—but if I was “run down” I could feel my glands start to ache, and get inflamed, even if there was no one around me who was sick.

I firmly believe that a properly maintained immune system will fight off the germs or pathogens that are circling around, and my experience for the past three years, bears this out: No jabs, no covid.

Trust the Science

Whose science, what $cience? Do we trust those that have dramatically increased their wealth during the past three years, or do we trust the science that was censored, or the scientists who lost their jobs?

Why would medical doctors, biologists, and epidemiologists risk their reputations and careers to be covid-skeptical, and not just tow the government’s line on the ‘rona?

Cui bono? Follow the money!

Conclusion

I am often asked what I would have done, or would do, if I had some kind of political power in this type of situation.

For what it's worth, I have been saying this from the beginning:

At risk people should have been given all the support they needed to remain virus-free and the rest of us should have been able to live our lives "normally."

As in many places like Vietnam and South Korea where the virus was swiftly contained, if there were a business, or community, that was identified as being a threat, then that business/community would have been closed and quarantined for the shortest amount of time. Every employee, or resident should receive all the support they need to survive that short time period.

Instead, the governments collectively punished almost the entire world and caused so much heartache and death because of that punishment. I liken it to when something happened in our household when I was growing up and all three children were punished because the actual culprit could not be identified. How did that help with discipline in the family? It didn't, it spread fear and division. And a virus that could have been contained in weeks, has taken way over two years, now.

C19 killed very few people—the “American Way” of fast and junk food; highly processed “food,” sedentary couch potatoes; smoking, excessive drinking of alcohol, stress; and the use of pharmaceuticals to mask symptom and create new ones, instead of healing; is what killed most of them.

The virus was just one more stressor on already stressed bodies.

I will admit that I have been angry at my community for making me suffer along with the compromised, because I work hard to take good care of my immune system, and it has obviously paid off.

As we all know US-Americans are very good at passing the buck for anything that goes wrong in their comfort zones.

When 9/11/01 occurred, what if we had taken a hard look at the foreign policy decisions of the government and tried to rectify past massacres instead of embarking on at least eight more since then and creating more enemies plus heartache here on the home front?

Instead of wondering why there are mass shootings in this nation and taking a hard look at the deep systemic problems we have in this psychotic country (war, drugs, police state violence, media lies, deficient public education, lack of meaningful work, lack of an effective public mental health system, lack of healthy recreational activities for everyone, reliance on TV and violent video games, etc), guns get blamed. If mental health facilities and practitioners were as easy to access as guns, maybe we could reduce the problem?

When the police murder of a person of color occurs, half of us blame the cop, half of us blame the victim, but very few of us blame the system.

Finally, for me, everything goes back to the violence of war, genocide, and slavery that this nation was founded on. None of these issues have been properly addressed, nor will they be as long as we the people keep playing with the political paradigm of Rotten Republicans and Dastardly Democrats —they both suck and both should be opposed for any type of health to prevail.

In my original Opus: Myth America, I didn't just whine about the problem, I offered solutions, like: Community banking, community gardens, community safety patrols; getting involved in issues that could unite communities, not further divide them—Or, grow your own food, if you have the room. Generate your own power.

Things like the above to start separating ourselves from the Robber Class so we could be less dependent on their crimes, even though we all feel the effects of their environmental destruction and wars.

Right when Covid was being forced down our throats, I wrote something to this effect on my now defunct Facebook profile (which I got a lot of shit for, by the way—natural immunity was even a bigger threat back then):

Get lots of sunshine and supplement with D3/K2 (I already knew how important this was).

Breathe freely and get lots of fresh air. Try not to breathe your recycled, moist, jungle, bacteria laced, masked air

Take Vitamin C and Zinc (hopefully, liposomal vit c)

Quit eating junk and processed foods

Get plenty of exercise and rest

Stop watching corporate news

Eat a whole, anti-inflammatory diet and limit white flour/foods and sugar

Get your greens

Play in the dirt, grow some food

Hug your loved ones and stay connected, no matter how hard they try to separate us

Stop smoking, lose weight, and cut-out, or reduce alcohol intake

Protect the elderly and vulnerable

Keep calm

Laugh

Of course, at this early stage of the fear-a-ganda, I wasn't aware of the benefits of hydroxychloroquine and Ivermectin as early treatments. Almost as we became aware of them, the establishment started lying about and blocking those treatments. Doctors who would rather treat and cure their patients instead of telling them to wait until they “couldn’t breathe” and go to an ER were punished. Those poor people who were forced to go to the ER were put on Fauci’s killer Remdesiver and harmful ventilators, and killed or disabled with “long Covid.” There was much evidence that hospitals were given large stipends for Covid patients, and deaths that gained the new medical code of Sars-Cov-2, which led to people who were having fear-induced panic attacks, or those who could easily be treated at home, to be admitted. I still think, though, that if people followed my above prescription, Covid would have been over with before it really had a chance to get started.

“They were dying because doctors were immediately intubating patients and providing them with Remdesivir, an expensive drug that does nothing to treat Covid or respiratory illness, but shuts down the organs,” ICU nurse, Nancy Smith (read article)

Now, almost three years into this, we KNOW a great majority of the people who died (may they be resting easy) from/with Covid had about 3 comorbidities. (Note: No, I am not happy about, nor am I minimizing the pain these deaths caused—I am indicting the establishment, not the people. It’s a lot like when my son was killed in the illegal and immoral war in Iraq, a lot of people told me, “he enlisted” like he deserved to die. It’s the rotten cyst-em we must struggle against).

The one thing that kept me from going completely bonkers during the miserable Covid-years was my family and our connectedness, even when we were told not to! Not one of my grandchildren (now 6) even came close to killing me with their genocidal germs—even though I have diverged from one family member about the jab, we are still close and supportive of each other’s choices.

Not once was I told by a family member that my health-germs were not welcomed anywhere, but I respected boundaries, as they respected mine.

Being a regular gym attendee (when it was open—now has been fully-opened for months) and getting in my swimming was a life-saver. I walk, or ride my bike, to the gym and I revel in mostly fresh-air and the warmth of the sun. I would not have made it through without my brother the Sun!

Laughing at the politicians while our hearts were breaking for the children helped, and having a cohort that were like-minded was also an amazing remedy.

I am just so sorry that skepticism has been demonized and the healthy have been weaponized against those who are not as conscious—the virus didn't divide us, the Pentagonal tactics of divide and conquer did.

Please, I hope this opens some eyes; coincides with the stories of some; but, brings the world closer together.

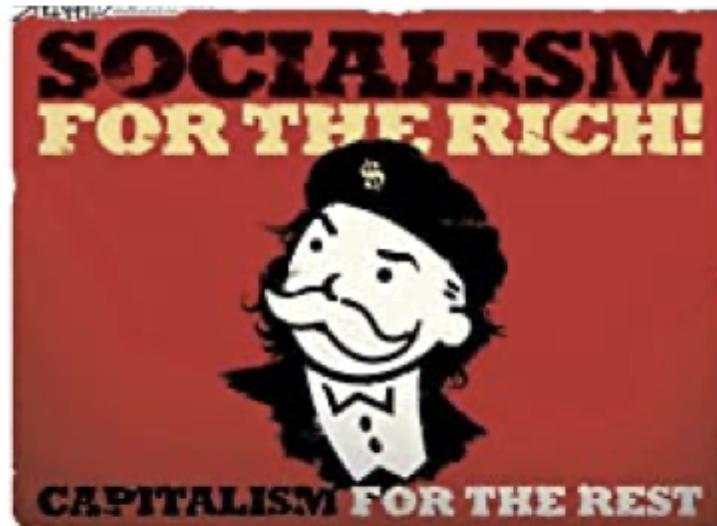

I am done with all the hate being directed at me and not at the ones who are literally laughing on their way to the bank.

#StillFullyAlive

Myth 21:

The Robber Class Cares About Our Health

By
Cindy Sheehan

By the end of 2008, after coming off of a successful, but unsuccessful campaign against war criminal Nancy Pelosi (17% of the vote, 2nd place), I was afloat and adrift because the shining-super-star-of-the-universe Barack Obama had won the 2008 presidential contest. Or, as I should say, and have said, he was the selection of the Robber Class to be the titular head of U.S. Empire.